Industrial units set up by industrial houses

2662. DR. MOHD. HASHIM KIDWAI: Will the Minister of INDUSTRY be pleased to state:

(a) the number of small industrial units set up by the big industrial houses and foreign firms in the country to take the advantages/special benefits for the small scale sectors during the last two years; and

(b) the steps contemplated by Government to remove the legal lacuna in this regard and to safeguard the interests of the small scale sector?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE DEPARTMENT OF INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT (SHRI M. ARUNACHALAM): (a) and (b). In terms of Government Notification of 16th February, 1973, setting up of a small scale undertaking with investment in plant and machinery not exceeding the prescribed limits is exempted from the licensing provisions of the I (D&R) Act, 1951. However, this exemption is not available, if such a small scale unit is a subsidiary of, or owned or controlled by any other undertaking. In view of this provision, setting up of a small scale unit by any other undertaking without obtaining an industrial licence would attract the penal provisions of the I (D&R) Act. Such small scale undertakings which are not eligible for exemption from licensing are also not eligible for the special concessions/incentives available under various schemes announced by the Government intended for protection or development of small scale units. This policy has been specifically brought to the notice of the State Governments for implementation. As the small scale units are registered by the State Governments, information on the number of such units which might have been set up by big industrial houses or foreign firms is not centrally maintained.
